

IMMIGRATION, ASYLUM AND NATIONALITY ACT 2006

INSTRUCTIONS FOR APPOINTING OFFICERS

Sections 15 – 25 of the Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006 set out the law on the prevention of illegal migrant working and came into force on 29 February 2008. These provisions replace those of Section 8 of the Asylum and Immigration Act 1996.

Appointing Officers must comply with these instructions to establish a statutory excuse against payment of a civil penalty if the Border & Immigration Service detects anyone working illegally whom you have appointed. The civil penalty can be up to £10,000 per illegal worker. As an Appointing Officer, if you know that you are employing a person who is not permitted to work in the United Kingdom, you will not be entitled to the excuse and could be prosecuted under the provisions of the 2006 Act. Conviction under this offence will carry the potential of an UNLIMITED fine and / or a prison sentence of up to two years. It is therefore vitally important that Appointing Officers satisfy themselves that any prospective employee can legally work in the UK by checking and photocopying documents produced by the prospective employee before they commence employment. Further help and guidance on this issue is available from the Personnel and Administration Directorate.

These instructions apply to appointments made on or after 29 February 2008 and explain what steps you should take to assure yourself that any documents produced by a prospective employee demonstrate an entitlement to work in the UK.

A prospective employee can produce a document, or documents, from one of two lists (Appendix 1). Documents from List A establish that the prospective employee has an ongoing entitlement to work in the UK. Documents from List B indicate that the prospective employee has restrictions on their entitlement to be in the UK. Documents must be checked and copied before the prospective employee starts work.

If a document, or documents, from List B are produced, you must repeat the check on the employee at least once every twelve months, until they provide a document or documents from List A. If they cannot provide a document or documents from List A, they must produce an extended or renewed document or documents from List B. If they are unable to obtain a document or documents from List A and cannot prove that the process of having a document or documents from List B extended or renewed is an ongoing process, they must be dismissed from your employment. These repeat checks of List B documents are required to retain the excuse. Failure to repeat the checks could therefore result in a civil penalty.

Documentary Advice

1. You must ensure that the prospective employee, or employee, provides a document, or documents, as specified in Appendix 1 of this document.
2. You must take all reasonable steps to check the validity of the document(s).
3. You must check that the expiry dates of any limited leave to enter or remain in the UK on any List B documents have not passed.

4. You must check any UK Government endorsements (stamps, visas etc.) to see if your prospective employee, or employee, is able to do the type of work you are offering.
5. If a document contains a photograph, you must satisfy yourself that the photograph is of the prospective employee or employee.
6. If a document contains a date of birth, you must satisfy yourself that the date of birth is consistent with the appearance of the prospective employee or employee.
7. You must take all other reasonable steps to check that the prospective employee or employee is the rightful owner of the document(s).
8. If the document is not a passport or other travel document you must take a photocopy of the whole of the document.
9. If the document is a passport or other travel document, the following pages of that document must be photocopied:
