Recently we asked our team why people stayed and what was good about Durham and feedback to our principal social worker was:

'We stay because of strong leadership and an open culture where you can ask questions. Supportive. An organisation that focuses on children rather than services. The opportunity to work in specialist services and we appreciate flexible/hybrid working'.

In our most recent Ofsted Durham's Children's Services received a judgement of good overall and leadership was described as outstanding noting that 'Leaders in Durham have an acute knowledge of the needs of children in Durham' and that 'There has been a relentless focus and deliberate drive to working longer and more intensively with families, in order to achieve real sustainable change, and to improve children's circumstances in the longer term, preventing multiple re-referrals back to the service'. 'Leaders intelligently recognise and understand the needs of Durham children and build supportive services around them' and 'Leaders and managers at all levels continually strive for excellent social work practice and are not complacent.' We would love you to be part of this journey with us.

Celebrating completion of your ASYE

We know that completing your ASYE is a significant achievement, an event for all of our social workers completing their ASYE is held to celebrate their achievement. We want you to be proud of your profession and we are here to support you every step of the way.

What do our NQSWs say?

"I have recently completed my AYSE with the support of Durham County Council's Academy. The Academy has offered me continuous support during my first year of practice and a safe place to reflect on my practice, exploring cases and reflection on my decision making.

The supervision has helped me to explore my decision making process and helped me to grow in confidence. The group supervisions offered by the academy gave me invaluable peer support and a safe place to discuss insecurities and the emotions that undoubtable every social worker feels within their first year. This support has helped me to grow into the kind of social worker I want to be now and in the future.

As a student I was worried about the volume of work that the AYSE portfolio would entail and how I would manage this whilst managing a demanding caseload. In reality, with forward planning this portfolio completes itself alongside your caseload as you are able to evidence your development with the work completed within these cases.

During my first year I have held a variety of cases ranging from child in need, supervision orders, pre-birth assessments and court work. The academy have supported me throughout this workload and with the staged capped case load throughout the first year, this allows you to find your feet at a reasonable pace. I look forward to a long a happy future with Durham." (Emma, NQSW)
