About the Trust

Advance Learning Partnership (ALP) was established in 2017 and has grown to its current position spanning County Durham and Darlington, with many of our schools serving areas of high deprivation. The Trust currently consists of 9 secondary and 9 primary schools and is responsible for over 8200 children and over 1200 employees.

Between 2017 and 2021 Advance Learning Partnership grew by around one school per year. Trust growth accelerated in 2022 and is expected to maintain this expansion rate in line with the Government's strategy for the growth of 'strong trusts'. The Trust's growth to its current position has been a deliberate and careful plan of organic growth, designed to ensure the provision of the necessary care and attention needed for each individual school's improvement as well as the management and development of an efficient and effective centralised support structure.

The Trust Board is determined to continue to strengthen and enhance our existing provision through the development of an inclusive educational provision which supports all educational sectors.

We are keen to continue our progression, building on our strong foundations. Schools seeking to join the Advance Learning Partnership family of schools will be considered using the principles of growth set out in our 'Trust Growth Strategy'. Advance Learning Partnership will continue to work alongside the Regional Director and the Department for Education to support the establishment of a cohesive educational landscape and strengthen the educational provision within the Northern Region.
